Operator: Hafford noted that the stand pipe is full, that several leaks were found with repairs scheduled before water turned back on. Several houses had frozen water meters which will be replaced at the expense of the owners. Hydrants were checked and shoveled out after snow storms. The summer wells have been run this winter to keep the standpipe full. School Street bid opening is this Friday. Still waiting for land surveyor for possible new well.

Rate increase: After listening to the public's comments about the proposed rate increase, but also realizing that enough revenue must be generated to operate the water company it was moved Brewer second Robbins to accept the proposed rate increase with the increase starting at the next billing cycle.
